New Members-Only Area on CTA Website

CTA is pleased to announce the launch of the new CTA website which includes a members-only area that will provide the information in a way that is easier for users to navigate and understand. To access this area, you will need your member identification number which is found on your CTA membership card. You then complete the simple registration process and you are inside the members-only area. There you will find information about the CTA Member Benefits program, professional development opportunities, trainings, conferences, scholarship opportunities, and CTA political campaigns. You will also be able to download CTA publications, documents and forms.
