If you don't qualify for the scholarship but are interested in attending this conference, please call the GGEA office and speak with Jenny.

Complete conference details, including hotel registration, will be sent in January when the online registration is available. (Since this is a local conference, hotel is not approved for reimbursement)

Here's some information about the conference:

This conference, " Fight for the Present, Shape the Future" is centered on the idea that building strong local unions and school site structures through nuts and bolts organizing, including Member and Community Engagement, is the key to a stronger Union. Our ability to connect with every member on school sites around our shared values is the foundation of building the necessary power to continue in our roles as advocates for students, colleagues, the teaching profession and public education in California. Please consider joining your colleagues from across Southern California as we hone the practice of building relationships by developing our skills and knowledge through multiple course offerings.
